Patient Notice of Privacy Practices

This Notice of Privacy Practices describes how we may use and disclose your protected health information to carry out treatment, payment or health care operations and for other purposes that are permitted or required by law. It also describes your rights to access and control your protected health information, (PHI). PHI is information, including patient demographic information, that may identify you and that relates to your past, present or future physical or mental health and related health care services. (Please review carefully)

Should you have any questions about this Notice, please contact your office and request to speak with the office manager.

We are required to abide by the terms of this Notice of Privacy Practices. We may change the terms of our notice, at any time. The new notice will be effective for all protected health information that we maintain at that time. A copy of our Patient Notice of Privacy Practices is available from our Web site at: <http://www.illinoisderm.com>. A copy is also posted in each of our offices and made available for patients upon request.

1. Permitted Uses and Disclosures

This practice may disclose protected health information on the individual who is the subject of the information for the following:

Treatment is the provision, coordination, or management of health care and related services for an individual by one or more health care providers, including consultation between providers regarding a patient and referral of a patient by one provider to another.

Payment encompasses activities of a health plan to obtain premiums, determine or fulfill responsibilities for coverage and provision of benefits, and furnish or obtain reimbursement for health care delivered to an individual and activities of a health care provider to obtain payment or be reimbursed for the provision of health care to an individual.

Health care operations: (a) quality assessment and improvement activities, including case management and care coordination; (b) competency assurance activities, including provider or health plan performance evaluation, credentialing, and accreditation; (c) conducting or arranging for medical reviews, audits, or legal services, including fraud and abuse detection and compliance programs; (d) specified insurance functions, such as underwriting, risk rating, and reinsuring risk; (e) business planning, development, management, and administration; and (f) business management and general administrative activities of the practice, including but not limited to: de-identifying protected health information, and creating a limited data set.

Business Associates: We may contract with individuals or entities known as Business Associates to perform functions related to payment and health care operations. In order to perform these health care operations on behalf of Illinois Dermatology Institute, LLC, Business Associates are required, under legal agreement, to receive, create, maintain, use and/or disclose your protected health information only with appropriate safeguards regarding your protected health information. For example, we may disclose your protected health information to a Business Associate to administer claims or to provide support services, such as utilization management, pharmacy benefit management or subrogation. This is in compliance with HIPAA regulation 45 CFR 160.103, 45 CFR Part 160, 45 CFR Part 164.

Coroners, Funeral Directors, and Organ Donation: We may disclose protected health information to a coroner or medical examiner for identification purposes, determining cause of death or for the coroner or medical examiner to perform other duties authorized by law. We may also disclose protected health information to a funeral director, as authorized by law, in order to permit the funeral director to carry out their duties. We may disclose such information in reasonable anticipation of death. Protected health information may be used and disclosed for cadaver, organ, eye or tissue donation purposes.
